Being Uninsured Will Cost You More

By Ricardo Alonso-Zaldivar

WASHINGTON—Being uninsured in America will cost you more in 2015.

If the first six months all taxpayers have to report to the Internal Revenue Service whether they had health insurance in the previous year, as required under President Barack Obama’s law, those who were uninsured face fines, unless they qualify for one of 50 exemptions, many of which involve hardship.

Dayna Day-Phoe-

estimates that she’ll have to pay a tax- man $290 when she files her 2013 return. Day- man, who has early 30s, works in marketing, and doesn’t have a job in each month after hour-transportation, and other fixed costs.

insurers, or 1 percent of household income, whichever is less than $95 per person or 1 percent of household income, whichever is less, whichever is greater.

It’s touted as this amazing thing, but right now, for me, it doesn’t fit into my budget,” she says.

Ryan Moon, an attorney who represents sex-trafficking victims, says she’s not surprised to see that IRS is still hunting for a permanent job after he graduated from college in 2013 with a bachelor’s in political science, and is still fighting for a permanent job with benefits. He expects to pay a fine.

A8

He says the IRS wants to make sure that taxpayers who pay penalties and 26 million will seek could be crucial. Some can be sensitive to political backlash, supporters will tolerate it if they may qualify for a waiver.

TurboTax has created a free online service, software for 2015 is expected to see if they may qualify for a waiver. Charges apply later if the taxpayer

Timing is Critical

TurboTax has created a free online tool called “Empties Check,” for people to see if they qualify for a waiver. Changes apply late in the tax year.

Changes will be made for uninsured people to avoid higher costs, allowing for a 2015, and they can do absolutely nothing to avoid that.

The insurance requirement and penalties remain the most unpoputional hit by going online and using the taxpayers’ returns don’t languish in treating healthy people into

As America’s sex-trafficking industry increases, state after state has enacted new laws to combat it. While a few have built� fringe, but it helps to holistically.

Gender health care has always involved financial risk. You could have an accident and end up with thousands of dollars in medical bills. Now, you may also get involved in a decision that allowed Obama’s health care law to advance, the Supreme Court ruled in 2012 that the coverage mandate and its accompanying fines were a constitutional valid exercise of Congress’s authority to tax.

In every state have embraced the

in this country, and legislators

ers and more vulnerable to being

There’s a disconnect society has to be forced to

If Figuring out your potential expo-people face fines, unless they qualify for one of

But it’s unclear whether taxpayers

n dimensional, but at the same time, it helps people to see if they may qualify for a

TurboTax has created a free online

the law. Those who were uninsured face...