KAKURO

Kaku puzzles are a cross between crosswords and arithmetic. Each rule is a single-box number placed in the cell, indicating the target number for that equation. The grid forms a linked chain of equations, requiring logic and/or arithmetic to determine the solution.

SUDOKU

In each row, each column and each box, there are nine squares of each digit. The objective is to complete the grid so each row, column, and box contains the numbers 1-9 exactly once.
